Post CCT GP Fellowships Scheme
Cambridgeshire and Peterborough

The Cambridgeshire and Peterborough Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) engaged with the national Health Education England (HEE) Post-CCT GP Fellowships Scheme to design a unique employment opportunity for GPs looking to work in care in primary care and other healthcare settings.

We believe that this experience of working across different settings will provide GPs with the chance to provide care in general practice and areas such as palliative care, short stay units and ambulatory care units - experience which can then be brought back into the primary care setting. HEE will also fund one session a week of educational experience.

Aims of Fellowships

• To develop skills mix for a future integrated health economy
• To develop system leaders for the local healthcare economy
• To grow and retain the talent held within Cambridgeshire and Peterborough

Fellowships are based on a model where primary employment will be within a general practice setting, with additional sessions where the GP will provide service delivery in another healthcare setting, such as secondary care or out of hours, plus time for personal development.

Employment will initially be on a fixed term basis of one or two years (less than full time) with the intention of future permanent employment. Models will vary depending on employers and your requirements (e.g. full time or part time employment) but the placement options are as follows:

Mentorship support will be provided by our GP Educators:

Cambridgeshire and Peterborough is a fantastic part of the country. It has excellent employment opportunities for GPs with varied patient populations, a talented and passionate workforce, and a drive to deliver primary care at scale. The local system has great access links to London and other part of the country, good schools and lots of activities for your free time. We love working here and we hope you will too.

Dr Andrew Wright, Associate Postgraduate Dean, Cambridgeshire and Peterborough

Hear testimonials from our former Fellows:

I returned to the UK from Sweden and was introduced to the Fellowship by the Camdoc team as one of their GPs had recently completed it - they had combined GP, OOH and the Leadership and Management Course. I was new to Cambridge and completing the Returner’s Course. It seemed a great opportunity.

I worked in Hinchingbrooke Hospital one day a week with the Palliative Care Team, 3 sessions in Nuffield Road and completed the Judge Business School Leadership and Management Course. Study days were held in the Moller Centre in Churchill College. These were interactive days with lectures from a whole array of business leaders, innovators, financial gurus etc. We were given a chance to really explore and understand the NHS and empowered to feel we could influence its future. We did various projects and presentations which were challenging but fun. It was great to have a laugh with hospital doctors again. The lunches were fabulous too.

I thoroughly recommend the GP Fellowship. It was definitely one of the most enjoyable years of my career. It opens up opportunities, widens your network and is fun and educational!

Dr Cathy Scahill, former GP Fellow from the Nottingham VTS
I took interest in the post CCT fellowship as I was new to the area and it offered a very broad introduction to the health economy. A combination of the Judge Business School, practice working and providing GP services in the unscheduled care environment made for an interesting year. The experience was largely positive.

The NHS is in a constant cycle of change and quality improvement and the insights offered by the fellowship were useful. The relationships formed during the year especially with peers in hospital training schemes continue to be critical to me enjoying the day job and delivering quality-local-patient care. I would recommend exploring such a scheme to anyone who is finishing training with a broad outlook and enquiring mind.

Dr Andy Irving former GP Fellow from the Peterborough VTS

I finished my GP training on Cambridge VTS scheme in August 2016. I had been able to do 6 months of dermatology during my training and I was really keen to pursue this interest further. The post CCT fellowship offered an excellent opportunity for me to get the first year of the Diploma in Practical Dermatology at Cardiff University paid for, while at the same time offering me a chance to get some practical experience in that area.

My work programme involved 1 day a week of see-and-treat skin cancer clinics with NWAFT at Hinchingbrooke Hospital alongside the Plastic Surgery team. The plastic surgeons were very enthusiastic about having me there and have been great at supporting me in developing my surgical skills. The remaining 3 days a week I spent working at Nuffield Road Medical Centre in Cambridge. They have also been very supportive about me developing this as an area of specialism, as well as being a really supportive practice to find my feet in the regular work of being a GP. At the end of the fellowship year, Nuffield Road showed their further support by funding the second year of my Diploma. I was also able to keep working at Hinchingbrooke in their skin cancer service.

I am now coming to the end of my Diploma and the Dermatology Consultants at NWAFT are helping me to become accredited as a GPwER in Dermatology and I am now starting to do an extra day a week with them doing general dermatology clinics. This is pretty much my dream job which doing the post CCT fellowship has provided the opportunity for me to create. It is hard to imagine how I would have managed to do all this without that support. I would recommend the fellowship programme without reservation. If anyone is interested and wants to discuss it further with me, I would be happy to do so via Gill Burry at the CCG [details overleaf].

Dr Vicki Clark former GP Fellow from the Cambridge VTS

Funding is available for GPs post-CCT to undertake a postgraduate certificate or equivalent medical education to enable them to become an Associate Trainer or GP Trainer, Out of Hours Clinical Supervisor, Training Programme Director and Associate Postgraduate Dean.

The CCG and partners have developed the GP Support Hub which delivers free local schemes and initiatives that will enable GPs to remain in clinical general practice, through promoting new ways of working and offering additional support.

The GP Support Hub aims to support and develop local GPs, with varying experience levels, to increase resilience, support peer networks and create positive engagement across the Cambridgeshire and Peterborough health system to enable better patient care for the population.

The future of Primary Care in Cambridgeshire and Peterborough

There is recognition and support from the system that the current model for the delivery of primary care needs to change from a GP delivered system to a multi-professional GP led system.

The development of Primary Care Networks which signals a significant change to the way in which not only services are delivered, but how the system must take ownership for addressing skill mix, education and training and new ways of working for the whole workforce.

Working alongside the Cambridgeshire and Peterborough CCG, local employers and stakeholders are supporting the delivery of a primary care workforce development plan which aims to address workforce supply. This is an exciting time with lots of opportunities for people to develop their careers.

Cambridge

Cambridge is most commonly associated with its famous university, which is consistently ranked one of the top five universities in the world. Cambridge University includes the renowned Cavendish Laboratory, King's College Chapel, the University Botanic Gardens and the Cambridge University Library. It also has the Anglian Ruskin University which, with a student population of 31,000, is one of the largest universities in the East of England.

Today, Cambridge is at the heart of the high technology centre known as Silicon Fen (a play on Silicon Valley and the fens surrounding the city.) Its economic strengths lie in industries such as software and bioscience, many start-up companies having been spun out of the university. Over 40% of the workforce has a higher education qualification, more than twice the national average.

You can view the beautiful city in several ways: punting along the River Cam, joining a walking tour of the city or exploring further afield from the seat of a bicycle following the excellent network of cycle paths in and around the city. There are both independent shops as well as the high street brands along the city centre and in The Grand Arcade and Grafton Centre shopping centres. Cambridge has various multi-storey car parks, but to reduce cost, traffic and the carbon footprint you can make use of the various Park and Ride schemes or the newly built Guided Busway, which links more of the rural towns and villages together.

Ely

Full of charm and beauty and home to one of the most magnificent cathedrals in England, the historic city of Ely is nestled in the Fen countryside in East Cambridgeshire. You can also see Oliver Cromwell’s house, where you can learn about this important historical figure. To see Ely at its best, follow the eel trail: this circular walk self-guided by brass way markers set in the ground, takes you past the oldest parts of Ely with its beautiful monastic buildings with stunning architecture and spectacular views.

Ely has excellent road and rail links to Cambridge and London. Cambridge is 15 miles away; Peterborough, Norwich, King’s Lynn and Newmarket are all within an hour’s driving time. Trains can reach London Kings Cross in seventy minutes.

The area is categorized as semi-rural, being surrounded by very rich arable farmland. In the past, much employment in the area was associated with farming, but now this is very large scale and highly mechanized. Much employment is in the retail and service sector, with the main growth in science and technology industry based in local business parks. Many residents commute to Cambridge, Peterborough and London. There is low unemployment and crime. The district scores highly on the national annual survey of “good” places to live.
Huntingdon

With its choice of boutique and national shops, historic heritage, riverside walks and fun activities, Huntingdon is the perfect place to visit whatever the season. This quaint market town with its charming churches, the Cromwell Museum - the only Cromwell-dedicated museum in the UK - and bustling markets, both traditional and farmers, offers you a warm welcome in an assortment of cafes, bars and restaurants.

Huntingdon is just one hour by train from London and sits directly off the A14 with links to Cambridge and Peterborough. With its pedestrianised shopping centre, Huntingdon offers visitors a choice of national, independent and boutique shops. The town is undergoing a major facelift with the ongoing redevelopment in several areas.

Huntingdon Racecourse is just a stone's throw from the town, directly off the A14 and holds regular race meetings including family fun days. Grafham Water Centre, near Perry, offers land and water-based activities as well as walks and bike hire around the reservoir.

Peterborough

Peterborough is the UK's fastest growing city. An attractive Cathedral city, Peterborough is 30 miles from Cambridge and less than an hour from London by train. In the city and surrounding areas, there are excellent schools and affordable housing. The coast is only an hour away. Rutland Water is 20 minutes away offering the largest inland sailing in England. Nene Park and Ferry Meadows offer excellent walking cycling and sailing facilities to the West of the City. The City has an extensive cycleway network, and an extensive attractive pedestrianized city centre, with a focus around the medieval Peterborough Cathedral dating from the 11th century.

We are a 3 Partner PMS Practice, with 4 salaried GPs, 2 ECPs, 2 nurse practitioners, 3 practice nurses, 3 HCAs, 1 phlebotomist, a senior clinical pharmacist, and an in-house counsellor. We are well supported by an experienced and dedicated reception and admin team who amongst other things do all our coding, summarising and referrals.

We serve a diverse population of 14,250 patients. We work in a large, well-equipped, purpose-built premise with free onsite parking, and within walking distance of Cambridge North Train station. We are proud to be a teaching & training Practice for both GP registrars and Cambridge University student doctors. We value work-life balance and aim to enjoy our work and have a manageable workload.

We are currently developing a telephone consultation access model using the Doctor First approach to help us work more efficiently. This is based on the SystmOne computer system. Most of our visits are done by our ECP, freeing up doctor’s time. Medication reviews and other medication related tasks are increasingly being managed by our senior practice pharmacist. We have nurse-led House of Care approach for all LTC’s.

We have 2 daily meetings to help us support one another, including an 8.15am team huddle at the beginning of the day to address any issues, and an 11.00am coffee-break which is more social. We have weekly MDT and educational meetings. We have consistently high QOF achievement with above average income and a recent positive CQC report.

All salaried GPs will be offered a mentor to support them. Special interests are practised and encouraged. Please contact the practice manager if you would like to arrange an informal visit.

Trinity Surgery
29 St Augustine's Road, Wisbech, PE13 3UZ

We are an innovative and forward-looking practice serving a population of 11,800 patients. We were early advocates of developing skill mix in general practice. This included advanced nursing roles and we currently have two nurse practitioners who can work autonomously – diagnosing and managing many patient caseloads.

Practice meetings are held once a month, and full staff meetings quarterly. We try to take “time out” from the practice once a year, usually with a facilitator, to prepare practice/business plans. We are particularly proud of the friendly and supportive environment we work in and relationships are encouraged and developed by regular social meetings.

The practice has taken a lead role in encouraging cross practice collaboration; our existence is the successful outcome of this value. We helped to establish a locality group in Wisbech, which extended to the rest of the Cambridgeshire Fens in the shape of the Fenland Primary Care Group and ultimately the Fenland Primary Care Trust.

We are proud of the friendly and supportive environment we work in and relationships are encouraged and developed by regular social meetings.

Thistlemoor Medical Centre
Thistlemoor Road, Peterborough, PE1 3HP

Thistlemoor Medical Centre looks after over 25,700 patients from Peterborough and the surrounding areas.

The practice has been cited nationally as an example of excellence and is proud to focus its service on its community. The practice operates from purpose-built facilities and utilises this to provide the full range of primary care services. They are a teaching practice and train GP’s, foundation year doctors and medical students. Four of the doctors in the practice have postgraduate certificates in medical education. They are an innovative practice that utilises the skills of healthcare assistants to facilitate care delivery - their mantra is that their doctors should be focussed on the part of the consultation that requires a Doctor.

The practice was fortunate to have an 'Outstanding Practice' rating at their last three CQC visits. Alongside the practice there are other healthcare related facilities for health visitors, pharmacy, ultrasound, counselling, community colonoscopy and endoscopy facilities.

Thistlemoor are keen to support the GP Fellowship programme to give Doctors the ability to work across the acute sector as well as in the community. They would be happy to support applicants on a one year or two-year basis. They would then be keen to integrate the Doctor within the Practice team and develop a longer-term relationship which could be on a long-term basis but also as a GP partner if the applicant would like to explore this. They would be happy to discuss support for a suitable candidate in their future development - commissioning, teaching and/or primary care.

We are pleased to be working with three of our local hospitals: Addenbrooke’s Hospital as part of Cambridge University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust and Hinchingbrooke Hospital and Peterborough City Hospital, which are part of the North West Anglia NHS Foundation Trust, to enhance the Fellowship offer.

Both Trusts offer exciting areas which will provide you the opportunity to work in a secondary care setting where you will enhance your clinical knowledge, experience work in another healthcare setting, and build new relationships. The learning from these sessions will provide you with a more rounded view of the value of integration between primary and secondary care and provide you with enhanced skills and knowledge to bring back to general practice.

Please note that your specialty placements are not restricted by employment area, for example if you chose to work in a practice in Peterborough you could select specialty sessions at Hinchingbrooke, or if you worked in a practice in Fenland, you could select a specialty session at Addenbrooke’s.

We will work with applicants to arrange speciality placements based on their preferences.
Cambridge University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (CUH), including both Addenbrooke’s and the Rosie hospitals, was one of the first foundation trusts to be authorised under the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003, and came into being in July 2004.

Our constitution defines our principal purpose as ‘the provision of goods and services for the purposes of the health service in England.’ The Trust has its foundation in Addenbrooke’s Hospital, which opened in October 1766 in Trumpington Street, Cambridge, as one of the first provincial teaching hospitals in the country.

Today, CUH has over 1,000 beds and 10,000 members of staff. We are one of the largest and best-known trusts in the country. The ‘local’ hospital for our community, delivering care through Addenbrooke’s and the Rosie, CUH is also a leading national centre for specialist treatment; a government-designated comprehensive biomedical research centre; a partner in one of six academic health science centres in the UK – Cambridge University Health Partners (CUHP); and a university teaching hospital with a worldwide reputation.

Building on these different elements, CUH’s vision is to be one of the best academic healthcare organisations in the world.

Our priorities focus on a quality service, which is all about people – patients, staff and partners. Our values – ‘Together – safe kind excellent’ – are at the heart of patient care, defining the way we work and behave.
